HOSPITALITY BROADLOOM + LVT

Impressions
from the French countryside.

Patterns that tell a story.

Toward the southwest corner of France, not far from the Spanish border, the Gironde region of Bordeaux is filled with evidence of its history. Every surface tells a story and begs us to take a closer look at its unassuming luxury. Designer Nolan Beck Rivera recently spent two weeks immersed in the area's weathered patinas, eroded bricks and lichen-covered stones. A photo catalogue of textures... became a tablet of sketches...became the latest trend collection for Tarkett Hospitality. This suite of organic patterns pays homage to the unwavering passing of time, and comes to life in a soothing palette of moss and blush tones.

Meet the Designer: NOLAN BECK RIVERA

Nolan Beck Rivera is the creative director behind The Materialist, a non-disciplinary design project that began with a trip to the Gironde region of France, specifically a small village called Saint-Palais-sur-Mer, where everything is very old and very beautiful. Every surface is textured, aged and rich. Inspired by this specific type of luxury, Nolan seeks to create products that have that same sense of gravity and beauty. Trained in graphic design, printmaking and photography, his work now includes interior design, architectural consulting, furniture design and jewelry design. He has a cane corso named Penelope, loves French and Italian culture, and once wrote a cookbook of food you can share with your dog.
